Philadelphia, December 22, 2010 – Prepay Nation, one of the fastest growing providers of instant account refills for international prepaid mobile operators, has announced an exclusive alliance agreement with Gambia's only 3G cellular service provider, QCell, to allow International Top Up service and the use of Mobile Money on the Prepay Nation's platform. The agreement will expand international airtime purchase offerings to Gambians at Prepay Nation's over 150,000 plus partner retail locations worldwide, and later to use the same distribution channel and the customer base to fund the QCell m-wallet accounts remotely.

The Chief Executive Officer of QCell Gambia, Muhammed Jah, heralded the partnership with Prepay Nation as a significant step forward in their service offerings. "This partnership with Prepay Nation will expand our distribution channels globally and allow for exponential growth of our network," said Jah. Gambia is home to about 1.5 million people. "Our goal is to bring the Gambia the best and the highest quality in telecommunications technology to increase the quality of life for our people," said Jah, "and this partnership will continue to grow. This collaboration with Prepay Nation also provides our expatriates the ability to transfer value to their friends and family without any cost or fees"

The new International Top Up and Mobile Money services will allow the Gambians worldwide an economical, risk-free way to instantly buy airtime and transfer small remittances of funds for their loved ones back home on the QCell network. As part of this collaboration, QCell has started to promote these new services, to their subscriber base in The Gambia through radio, in place marketing and one on one promotions to encourage the use of Top Up services available internationally through Prepay Nation's distribution channel partners.

“We are excited to support QCell in providing electronic prepaid airtime refills and mobile money services to the Gambian population around the globe,” said Jessica Bishop, Vice President of Business Development for Prepay Nation. “This alliance marks a major milestone, both for QCell and their subscribers, and for our company's sustained long term growth and product expansion.”
